

his deep, slow nature, and he had set himself down to win her by the only means he knew—patient, plodding labor. And the next time I saw her I found at her with an odd mixture of admiration and pity; for I felt that she had chosen a most unfit sub-ject for her arts if she were not, and if she were not, that Sam Saunders and Bessie Littleton would make a very odd couple.

Straws on the Wind.

Three paragraphs, taken almost at random from the news column of a contemporary are full of suggestions to those who watch the course of politics. To us they seem to say:—

1. That however willing Northern conservatives may be to forget all about slavery the South are determined not to let it rest until it becomes the normal condition of the blacks throughout the Union.

—The Little Rock (Arkansas) Gazette gives a synopsis of a bill passed by the Legislature of that State for the expulsion of free negroes:

"They have until January 1870 to dispose of their property, and make other arrangements for leaving. If they do not go then, it is made the duty of sheriffs to seize them and hire them out to the highest bidder for one year, giving them the net proceeds of their labor to enable them to leave the State. The bill provides that such free negroes as desire to remain, may choose masters—the County Court having them appraised, and the master or mistress they have chosen paying half their value into the common school fund of the County."

2. That slavery shall be recognized as a condition which the white may impose on the black whenever he thinks proper.

—The slaveholders of the parish of St. Landry, La., held a meeting recently, at which they resolved that the laws in regard to free negroes must be so amended that hereafter any free person of color who should be duly convicted of any offence against the laws, by a Court of competent jurisdiction, should be sold by the sheriff of the parish in which he was tried, to the last and highest bidder, as a slave, either for life or for a term of years, in accordance with the nature of the offence.

3. That the time is soon coming when the demands of Southern fanatics upon the present Democratic party will increase to such an extent as to drive honest Northern Democrats into a separate organization or fusion with Republicans. Which course they will take probably depends on the wisdom or folly of the course pursued by the latter in welcoming or repelling them.

—The Cincinnati Enquirer (Mr. Postmaster Faran's paper), in an article in relation to the Charleston Convention, says that if, at that Convention, a plank should be inserted into the Democratic platform demanding legislation by Congress to protect slavery in the Territories, it will be utterly destructive of the prospects of the party, and that they will not be able to carry a single State in the North. We have not yet heard of Mr. Faran's removal.

THE SCANDALOUS FRAUD upon the government alluded to by Gen. Wilson and Senator Cameron in the U. S. Senate just before the adjournment of the last Congress, is substantially thus:—

A certain quantity of blanks was to be furnished by a Mr. Rice to the Post Office Department, for which he was to receive $40,000. The actual cost of these blanks was but $6,000. This monstrous profit was to be divided for the benefit of the President's partisan editors, five per cent. going to Mr. Appleton, Assistant Secretary of State, and one of the conductors of the Union; three per cent. to another journalist in interest of a member of Congress, and the balance to keep alive the Pennsylvania, a most unscrupulous advocate of Leocomptonism. These facts are beyond question, and Mr. Cameron asked for an opportunity to prove them.

A new Park is to be made in New Haven, to be called "Brewster Park," in honor of Mr. James Brewster, a citizen noted for his public spirit and philanthropy.

Death of Mr. Walsh.
The Hon. Michael Walsh, of New York City, was found lying dead in a cellar way upon Eighth Avenue on Thursday morning. His neck was dislocated and it was supposed that death was caused by decaying falling while under the influence of liquor. Policeman Courtney of the 16th precinct, found the body in this position and had it removed to the station-house.

Some of the deceased's friends were of the opinion that Mr. Walsh had been robbed and thrown into the area. A watch and diamond pin he was accustomed to wear are said to be missing; but of this there was no reliable information.

Rarely do we see a sadder instance of great natural talents and force of character ruined by one unfortunate habit, than in this case. Michael Walsh had qualities which might have given him a lofty place among the political leaders of the country, and had proved them by his early career. Originally a carman in the City, ignorant and poor, he raised himself by his own efforts and unassisted genius to a position of great influence. As a speaker he stood at that time side by side with men who had made oratory the story of their lives; probably there was not a more truly eloquent man by nature, or one better adapted for a popular leader, of his time. The habit of drinking early fixed itself upon him, and for a time seemed only to stimulate his natural powers. The writer well remembers seeing him often "hen at Albany as a member of the Assembly of 1852. Almost every night from ten till one or two o'clock, he would be found in his favorite corner of the bar-room of Congress Hall, one arm resting on the counter, with a frequently replenished glass of liquor at hand. The circle who surrounded him for the sake of listening to his conversation, was often composed of men far his superiors in wealth, in social standing, and in cultivation, but who were yet willing listeners when he spoke. It was curious and painful to watch him as the accustomed stimulus took effect, pouring forth a stream of rude eloquence filled with wit, shrewd sense, and knowledge of human nature, until at last, the stream of his thoughts grew muddy, and he retired, heavy with his potations, but sure on the next day to be in his seat, clear-headed, active and confident.

This career could not have lasted so long as it did, but for great physical power. He was a member of the Legislature for several terms, and of Congress for a single one. Here his habits had already begun to tell upon him to an extent that prevented his making such an impression as he otherwise would have done, or rising to higher honors. Still no one could know him, even then, without admiring his wonderful abilities.

After he first began to attract notice and before his Legislative career, he was the editor of several political papers, among which the Subterranean will be remembered by Rhode Islanders, and he with it as an ardent supporter of the Suffrage party in this State, and of the movements of Thomas W. Dorr.

Administration Nominations.
The Administration party held their State and Congressional Conventions on Thursday, at Providence. Hon. Chas. Jackson presided over the former and the following ticket was nominated:

For Governor, ELISHA R. POTTER, of South Kingstown.
For Lt. Governor, FENNER BROWN of Cumberland.

For Secretary of State, THOMAS STEERE, of Smithfield.
For Attorney General, EDWIN METCALF of Providence.

For General Treasurer, EDWARD F. NEWTON, of Newport.

The Congressional Convention had hard work to find men.

That for the Eastern District nominated Welcome B. Sayles, who declined, and then OLNEY ARNOLD, who accepted.

That for the Western District nominated successively, Emanuel Rice, Alfred Anthony, and Lemuel Rodman, all of whom declined. Henceforth the convention voted not to accept Mr. Anthony's declination, so we suppose he is the candidate.

The State convention passed among others the following resolutions:

4. Resolved, That in the opinion of this Convention, the General Assembly of this State, under the reservations of the State Constitution, rightfully grant new trials and rehearings; and that it is its duty to protect this right from encroachment. And that the present General Assembly, by refusing, at its recent January session, to assert this power, failed to discharge its duty under the Constitution, and proved itself unfaithful to the trust reposed in it by the people of the State.

5. Resolved, That the General Assembly of this State have heretofore exercised and still possess the power to call a Convention to revise the Constitution; and that the onerous provisions of same, and the ambiguity of other portions of the present instrument, are sufficient reasons for the immediate exercise of this power.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN BOSTON.—The Boston Traveller in commenting upon the removal of the Post Office in that city tells the following funny anecdote:

"There is an anecdote concerning this business worth telling. When the remonstrants against the removal were in Washington, one of them told the President that it should be effected the democratic party if Boston would be ruined. 'Indeed!' said Mr. Buchanan, with a perceptible elevation of the eye brows, and in the blandest of voices; 'indeed!—I was not before aware that there was any such party in Boston.'

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Court of Justices.
The "same old crowd" were in attendance at the court yesterday. One wonder, in looking over such an audience, on such an occasion, and on one of the busy days of the week, how many "industrious men" can afford the time that they spend week after week in that court room. The truth of the old adage that "time is money," seems the farthest thing from their minds. Among the crowd in attendance, were two, at least, with contorted heads, the result of conflicts, man with his fellow man; and two others who, according to their own testimony, had only escaped the same by "the skin of their teeth," showing beyond question, that the reign of the war-god in this community is decidedly and lamentably on the increase.

The first case on the docket, was State versus Eleazer J. Read, for an assault upon Charles D. Beede. The circumstances of the case, as we gathered them from the testimony on the stand, are as follows: There has been a feud between the parties for several weeks past, and on Thursday night Beede made some insulting remark in relation to Read, in his presence, which the latter resented; and a short time afterwards, about 10 o'clock, as Beede was passing up Washington Square on his way to his residence, he was accosted by Read in a rough manner, who dealt him a murderous blow on the right eye with his fist or a stone, felling him to the sidewalk, after which he (Read) left, but was overtaken in Clarke Street and identified as the man who struck the blow. Mr. Sheffield appeared for the defence. The principal witness for the prosecution, was Beede himself, who exhibited his injuries to the Court, and told the story of the assault. This the defence admitted, only pleading provocation on the part of Beede in mitigation of the offence. The Court imposed on Read a fine of $15 and costs. It is talked about town that Beede will commence a civil action against Read for damages.

State versus William P. Sleeper, for assault &c., upon Caleb S. Langley. This case was one of those domestic broils that sometimes occur in families, and are foolishly suffered, by those concerned in them, to obtain notoriety through bringing them before the courts.—Sleeper and Langley married sisters, occupy tenements in the same house, and, according to the testimony of Langley, have been having things rather more in common than was to his liking. Matters between them have been growing "no better very fast," for some time, Sleeper, according to Langley's testimony, threatening to "pizen" him to get him out of the way, in consequence of which threat he had not, he said, for several weeks past dared to drink a drop of liquid in his own house, without first requiring his wife to taste it, she, meanwhile, joining the up-stairs league against him. It is evident that such a state of things could not progress far without an outbreak.—The culminating point was reached Thursday morning, when hostilities were commenced by Sleeper hurling a "gridiron," on which some "flap-jacks" were being cooked for Langley's breakfast, in dangerous proximity to his head, he having, (by her account,) previously upset a kettle of fish on his wife's clean floor. Seeing the odds were decidedly against him, with two women and one man as the opposing force, and one of them his own wife at that, Langley invoked the strong arm of the law to his aid, and brought the parties before the court. Langley, who was called to the stand, was emphatically a fast witness; so much so, as to require the combined efforts of the Court, counsel and officers, to hold him in check. Away he went like an empty wagon going down hill behind a 240 horse, greatly to the amusement of the spectators, who, regardless of the calls of "order," broke out a number of times in a simultaneous roar of laughter, in which counsel and officers joined, the Court with difficulty maintaining their wonted gravity. His wife was next summoned, and had it not been that in the course of her testimony she flatly contradicted herself, her story might have gained her some friends among the Court and spectators. Like her husband, she evinced a disposition to lay open to the public gaze matters which wiser persons would have preferred to keep secret, as they were irrelevant to the case, and entirely uncalculated for, besides being of a nature by no means creditable to the parties disclosing them. Sleeper was discharged on the warrant for assault, but required to give bonds in the sum of $100 to keep the peace three months. Sheffield for the prosecution.

State versus John Connolly, for an assault upon Robert Dwyer. Dwyer is a "bowlid soldier boy," of the Fort Adams troops, while Connolly is a denizen of that charming locality known as Danister's Wharf. There had for a long time existed a grudge between the parties, and Connolly had forbidden Dwyer his house. Matters went on from bad to worse, till last Sunday, Connolly "billed right over" at the sight of Dwyer, and with a huge brick in his hand, (not in his hat,) pursued him till he was fain to take refuge in the house of Mrs. Lyon. Dwyer recovered made oath that he stood in bodily fear of Connolly; and the Court, taking all things into consideration, fined the latter $2 and costs, and required him to find sureties in the sum of $100 to keep the peace for six months. Sheffield for defence. One of the witnesses in this case was a wild Irishman, whose testimony the united efforts of Mr. Sheffield and the Court could not English.

James G. Hazard, charged with keeping a gambling house, waived an examination, and was bound over in the sum of $300 to the Court of Common Pleas.

The case of Thomas Kenney was continued to next Tuesday.

We understand the subscription papers for the projected Philharmonic Concert are fast filling up, and that the Concert will be given in about two weeks.

—The Boston Express says a Baptist clergyman and his wife, who reside in this vicinity, have the pleasure of daily gathering around their fireside four daughters, who were born in four different quarters of the globe, viz: One in Europe, one in Asia, one in Africa, and one in America.

—Fogrum, our great Statistician has written to the clergyman to enquire whether any pair of the above are twins.

ART AND LITERATURE.

—Mr. Bartlett, a book publisher of Cambridge, goes into the old firm of Phillips, Sampson & Co., Boston.

—Mr. Buckle, some time since, completed the second volume of his "Introduction to the History of Civilization," but its publication has been postponed.

—Duke Ernest of Saxe Coburg Gotha, brother of Prince Albert, has composed a new opera, called "Diana of Solingen," which has been produced at Dresden with marked success.

—Tennyson's new poem "Mortimer" will be published, in London, it is said, in about a fortnight. It is in four parts and relates to Merlin, King Arthur, and the Round Table. Probably the Morte d' Arthur, in one of his earliest volumes, is a fragment of it. In his new volume of poems young Bulwer Lytton speaks of Tennyson as the "Great Alfred."

—Some of the editors in the Slave States recently ventured to put Whittier's name to his poems, when they copy them. This justice has hitherto been denied the Quaker bard at the South.

—The Rev. Dr. Gannett of Boston preached last Sunday the first sermon that will ever be heard in the old Federal-street Church, so long hallowed by the labors of Dr. Channing. The text was from Haggar 11, 3: "Who is left among you that saw this house in her glory?"

—Mr. John Stuart Mill, the distinguished logician and political economist, in the preface to his new essay On Liberty which he dedicates to the memory of a wife whom he has lately lost, attributes to her "all the inspiration and part of the authorship" of all that "is best in his writings of many years past." A woman could scarcely ask better testimony to the capacity of the sex.

—Shakespeare's tomb is soon to have the shrill whistle of railroad progress to disturb the calm air around it. The "first sod" was turned lately on a projected railroad between the town of Stratford-on-Avon and Hatton.

—The new Quarterly Review which the gray-beard of Burlington street, Mr. Bentley, has undertaken to publish is to be entrusted to Dr. Dornan. The selection is not a bad one, but not the best. Dr. Dornan is an exquisite gossip, but not quite the quality of man for a Quarterly. He knows a something on everything, and is never at loss as to how he must say his something to the best advantage. But he is not the man for a great Quarterly such as that proposed. Murray trembles lest it help to drag down the famous one he ran against The Edinburgh. Professor Christmas, who wields a facile pen; Mr. Ferguson, author of "Consecrated Heights," and Professor Owen, are to be among its first contributors.

—A SMART SPELL.—A gentleman in North Chester, Vermont, two or three weeks since, offered as a prize a copy of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary to the one of the scholars in all the public schools in town who should "spell all the others down." Seven schools were accordingly represented, and about a dozen teachers and a large crowd of spectators were present, when the trial took place on the 25th ult. But one trial was to be had on a word, and the unfortunate who missed must take his or her seat. Eighty scholars contested for the honor and the prize, and, after five hours' trial, five pupils remained standing, and the enthusiastic audience soon raised the needful to purchase each a copy of the great Unabridged.

—Prof. Jacob Grimm relates the following anecdote: "Not long ago, a little girl of about eight years old apparently belonging to a good family, rings at the door of Mr. Grimm, and tells the servant that she wishes to speak to the 'Herr Professor.' 'Thinking that the little one had to deliver a message, the servant shows her into the study of the Professor, who receives her kindly, and asks after her errand. The child looks at him with earnest eyes and says, 'Is it thou who hast written those fine Marchen.' (fairy tales). 'Yes, my dear,' answers Dr. Grimm, my brother and I have written the Haus Marchen.' 'Then thou hast also written the tale of the clever little tailor, where it is said at the end, who will not believe it must pay a thaler?' 'Yes, I have written that too.' 'Well, then, I do not believe it, and so I suppose I have to pay a thaler, but as I have not so much money now, I'll give thee a groshen on account, and pay the rest by-and-by.' The servant, as may be imagined, was not a little surprised and amused. He inquired after the name of his conscientious little reader, and took care that she reached her home safely."

Robert McLane, who is to go out Minister to Mexico, is son to Louis McLane of Delaware, who was Secretary of State under Gen. Jackson, succeeding Edward Livingston to that office. He was a prominent member of Congress, representing the Baltimore district of Maryland during the Polk administration, and was subsequently American Minister to China. In the Cincinnati Convention he supported Gen. Pierce, which accounts for the appointment.

Private advices by the steamer Jura states that the Hon. Giney Jones was received at the Court of Vienna on the 14th ult., as United States Minister.

Miscellaneous.

Lost at sea, off Cape Horn, Nov. 12th, from ship "Osborn Howes," on her passage from Boston to San Francisco, George Frank Gorton, son of Frank S. Gorton, formerly of this city, in the 18th year of his age. He was truly beloved by all who knew him, and may "He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb" sustain the legends which are so deeply afflicted by this solemn bereavement. D. [From the log of one of his ships.] "On board ship 'Osborn Howes,' outward bound from Boston to San Francisco, lat. 58 16 South, lon. 83 45 West, George Frank Gorton fell overboard while turling the mizen tassel. At the time of the accident, we were lying to under close reefed topsails, when one of those gusts or squalls, so prevalent at the Cape, struck her, and the mizen tassel was elevated up, and more laid aloft to secure it, he among the number, and in passing out on the lee yard arm, he was probably struck by the sail, and losing his hold, fell. When he reached the water, he was to all appearance insensible, taking no notice of the life buoys or ropes thrown to him, some of them falling directly over or drifting directly toward him. Every exertion was made to save him, but all to no use, and our friend and shipmate passed stern from our sight. Ours was a sad, sad Sabbath. Young Gorton had by his frank open-heartedness endeared himself to all on board. He possessed in an eminent degree those qualities which create respect and friendship whenever and wherever found." Extract from a letter received in this city from San Francisco: "We lay with our jill-boom on the 'Osborn Howes' stern, and just as soon as we were made fast I went aboard, and not seeing Frank anywhere, I asked some of the boys and they told me the sad news. They say the Captain treated him like his own son; he used to live in the Cabin, and was never sent aloft only when he wanted to go, and he was liked by all hands. * * * He had very nice officers, and that is the best thing aboard ship."—Prov. TO THE NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

WASHINGTON March 17.
FROM WASHINGTON.—The Cabinet met at an unusually early hour to-day and resumed the consideration of the affairs of the I. O. O. F. Department.
The question of an extra session of Congress is still undetermined, the members being divided in opinion in regard to it. There is, however, the best authority for stating that there will be a decision on the subject before next Sunday, so that if it is in the affirmative the President's proclamation may go out in the next Pacific steamer.

The grand jury to-day brought in a presentment against Mr. Sickles for murder, and there is no doubt a true bill will be found against him when a day will be set apart for his trial. Whatever may have been their proceedings relative to Mr. Butterworth, it was understood about the court house to-day that they would take no further action on the subject implicating him as an accessory. From what has just transpired, the trial will disclose an amount of scandal far exceeding what has already been furnished to the public, and bring reluctantly to the witness stand persons who have not heretofore figured in the newspapers.

ROMANCE AND CRIME IN STAFFORD!—A Girl in Boy's Clothing Goes out to Chop-ping with her Seducer!—The Sex of the Girl-Boy Discovered!—Sudden Exit of her Betrayer!—A man calling his name Samuel Austin, but who has an alias, came from Rhode Island about a year ago, and has been at work with a Mr. Ellithorpe, a substantial farmer residing in the north part of Stafford. Six months ago he went to R. I., and returned with his boy, as he called him, a young man 17 or 18 years of age. The boy remained with Austin some two or three months chopping wood for coaling, driving team, and doing the work of a regular hand on the farm. He boarded with Austin, occupying the same room and bed with him, and then returned again to R. I. Within a month returned again, and suspicions became rife among the workmen, from certain physical developments, that the "boy" was not of the masculine gender, and such proved to be the case, when subsequently compelled to divulge her sex. She said her name was Mary E. Austin, and her deceiver's name was Stephen Young—that she had become ensnared by him—had been rejected by her parents and induced by him under the assumed name of Austin to follow him to Conn. in disguise. Last Sunday, after these disclosures were made, her life was threatened by Young, and an attempt was made to injure. She called for protection on Mr. Ellithorpe, who gave it to her, until an officer could be procured for the arrest of Young. The villain fled immediately.—Sheriff Winter is on his track in close pursuit of him.—Palmer Journal.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION.

PHILADELPHIA.

A Beneficial Institution, established for the relief of the sick and distressed, afflicted with violent and epidemic diseases.

The Howard Association, in view of the successful destruction of human life, caused by sexual diseases, and the deceptions practiced upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, for several years ago directed their consulting Surgeon, as a Charitable Act worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases in all their forms and to give Medical Advice gratis, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c.), and in cases of extreme poverty to furnish Medicines free of charge. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.

The Directors of the Association, in their annual report upon the treatment of sexual diseases, for the year ending July 1st, 1855, express the highest satisfaction with the success which has attended the labors of the consulting Surgeon in the cure of Syphilis, Gonorrhea, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Syphilis, the virus of Quinsy or abscess, &c., and order a continuance of the same plan for the ensuing year.

The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort, have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal to this very important but much despised cause.

An admirable Report on Syphilis, Gonorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, the virus of Quinsy, and other diseases of the Sexual Organs, by the consulting Surgeon, which will be sent by mail, (in a sealed envelope,) free of charge, on the receipt of two stamps for postage. Address, for Report or treatment, Dr. George H. Caldwell, Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 South Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa. By order of the Directors, E. D. HARTWELL, President. GEO. FAIRCHILD, Secretary.

CAUTION TO LADIES.

Dr. DUBOIS'S Golden Periodical Pills for Females. Perfectly harmless, yet wonderfully and powerfully efficacious in correcting irregularities, and removing all obstructions from whatever cause.

All medical men know, as well as many others, that no female can enjoy good health, unless the regularity of her system is maintained, and that whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health begins to immediately decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, Pain in the Side, Palpitation of the Heart, Leucorrhoea, and Disturbed Sleep, do most always arise from the interruption of nature's regularity, and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils; and may always be used successfully as a preventive. Price $1 per box. For sale at 132 Washington Street, corner Church Street, at the House. Order for the trade so as to be supplied at lowest manufacturer's prices. Ladies by enclosing $1 to STURGIS & CO., Box 801, Newport Post Office, can have the Pills sent confidentially by mail to any part of the city or country.

TO THE LADIES.

The celebrated Dr. Hughes particularly requests all ladies who may need a medical or surgical adviser, to call at his rooms, No. 13 Howard Street, Boston, which they will find arranged for their especial accommodation. Dr. Hughes having devoted over 48 years to this particular branch of the treatment of diseases peculiar to females, it is now conceded by all, (both in this country and Europe,) that he excels all the other known practitioners in the safe, speedy and affectional treatment of all female complaints.

Dr. Hughes French Renovating or Female Monthly Pills are to be had genuine only at this office.

These pills are unrivaled in efficacy and superior virtues in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a very short time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders, who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the old doctor at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country, with directions.

The best of accommodations furnished for the sick, with kind and attentive nurses, if they wish, at a reasonable rate.

This office is strictly private, with special apartments for ladies, and is so arranged that it is impossible for patients to come in contact with each other.

Recollect the number—13 Howard Street. N. H. All secrets are most strictly confidential.

All letters will be promptly answered. Address Dr. J. B. Hughes, 13 Howard St., Boston, July 1st.

CONFIDENTIALLY TO THE AFFLICTED.

Dr. J. B. Hughes still continues his old establishment, 21 Howard Street, Boston, where he can be consulted on all private complaints. All persons in any way afflicted may rely on a sure and speedy cure being performed.

Dr. Hughes has for a number of years paid particular attention to the study and practice of private diseases, and his perfect has become acquainted with them, that without boasting, he will warrant an effect in the shortest possible time, no matter how long standing the case may be.

In offering the result of his long study and practical experience to the afflicted, he is governed by humanity only, for so long have they been deceived by miserable quack nostrums, that it seems that some healthy mode of practice should be introduced.

The old doctor professed to be eminently skillful in curing gonorrhea, gleet, stricture, syphilis in all its stages, primary, secondary, tertiary, or hereditary, seminal weakness, nocturnal emissions, gleet, impotency, and all diseases of the urinary organs. The doctor solicits a call from all who may be afflicted with any such disease, feeling confident of success, and at a great saving of time and money to his patients.

The doctor can be consulted by letter, if the disease is accurately described, medicines will be immediately forwarded, carefully concealed.

Please remember the name and No., as Dr. Hughes has nothing to do with any other office but 13 Howard St.

P. S. The best accommodations will be furnished the sick of both sexes, with kind and attentive nurses, and at a reasonable rate. All letters requiring advice must contain one dollar, or no notice will be given, or attended to. Address Dr. J. B. Hughes, 13 Howard St., Boston.

DR. DOW'S GRAND MEDICAL HOUSE AND OFFICE.

NO. 7, ENDICOTT-ST., BOSTON, NO. 7.

Established for the permanent cure of all Private Diseases and the Suppression of Quackery.

DR. DOW, so well known for the last fifteen years in this city, where he has confined his practice to the treatment of mercurial, syphilis and other diseases of a private nature, is consulted above, from nine in the morning till seven in the evening. Patients must call during office hours. Office not open on Sundays.

All chronic and difficult cases, such as have existed for years, are completely and permanently cured in the shortest possible time by the Doctor's improved course of treatment.

MEDICAL ADVICE.—As it is always important to obtain the services of an experienced and skillful physician call on the celebrated Dr. Dow, No. 7, Endicott Street—Med. and Surg. Jour.

DR. DOW will say nothing of his qualifications as a Physician and Surgeon, being a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, a Licentiate of the State Medical Society of N. Y., and for more than twelve years a practitioner of this city, during which time he has not doubt cured more of those difficult chronic cases (such as nothing but practice experience can ensure success) than by other physicians in Boston.

By his late improved course of practice, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, and other local affections of the urinary and seminal organs, are cured in a very few days without mercury, regard to diet or fear of exposure.

SECONDARY SYPHILIS, &c. Scrofulous affections, ulcers in the throat or neck, nodes and caries of the bones, eruptions on the skin, and every impurity of the blood thoroughly and completely eradicated. Persons afflicted with any private complaint should call as early as possible after contracting the disease, as much time and money may be saved thereby.

TO YOUNG MEN.—You who are troubled with seminal weakness, generally caused by a bad habit in youth, the effects of which are nocturnal emissions, pains and dizziness in the head, forgetfulness, sometimes a ringing in the ears, weak eyes, &c., terminating in consumption or insanity, if neglected, are speedily and permanently cured by Dr. Dow.

TO MIDDLE-AGED OR EVEN OLD MEN, whose procreative organs have become inactive or weakened by the excesses of any kind, but especially bad habits in youth, Dr. DOW would respectfully say that from the extensive practice which he has had in the treatment of the above complaint for over fourteen years, he is enabled to guarantee a perfect cure in all cases; that is, a restoration of these organs to their natural and healthy state. Hardly a day passes that he is not called upon to cure the above complaints, and he is happy to say that his course of treatment has invariably effected a speedy cure.

Beware of all kinds of Exhilarating Cordials, as they are of no use.

To the unbelieve, the mere mention of the name of the far-famed and justly popular physician, Dr. Dow, that he can at all times be found at home that he is surpassed by none in curing all forms of disease, however protracted, ill-treated, or mercurially affected, is a consolation to his patients, and an honor to himself.—Balt. Amer.

All afflicted with private complaints, if possible, should consult Dr. Dow, whose medical education is not surpassed by any physician in the country. In his skill, honor and integrity, all may rely with safety, while most of the medical practitioners are without honesty or responsibility, their pretensions being grounded in ignorance and assumption.—Republican Argus.

There are a great many young men whose cases have become very difficult of cure, either from neglect or ill-treatment. We would advise all such to call on Dr. Dow, of Boston, whose practical experience in certain diseases no doubt exceeds that of any other physician in America.—Journal of Health.

Dr. Dow consults with physicians, as usual, on difficult chronic diseases. Charges reasonable.

TO FEMALES. All diseases peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, &c., speedily and effectually removed. The efficacy of his remedies for the cure of the above affections, has been well tested in his extensive practice for the last fifteen years in this city, and never was known to fail in effecting a cure where the directions were followed a reasonable time.
